NOTES ON SOURCES

Hunkin-Tuiletufuga author name. Corrected from “Hunkin” to the verified full name “Hunkin-Tuiletufuga, Galumalemana,” consistent with academic citations of this chapter. Updated across all inline citations in Case 1.

Asian Family Services publication history. The series consists of 2020 (lite), 2021, and 2025 reports. An earlier reference to “Asian Family Services 2022” was identified as fabricated and corrected: 2021 retained where most temporally fitted, 2025 introduced where the contemporary survey data strengthens the claim.

Youth19 Adolescent Health Research Group. Generic “Youth19 2019” citations were replaced throughout with specific Youth19 reports: Fleming et al. (2020) on mental health and King-Finau et al. (2021) on digital access.

Statistics New Zealand disambiguation. Two 2021 publications are disambiguated as 2021a (household income) and 2021b (Te Pā Harakeke). A former 2018a entry — a Census housing-and-tenure lookup rather than a discrete publication — is retired: its household-composition claims are carried by Housing in Aotearoa: 2020 (pp. 124–129, Figure 105 for composition by ethnicity) and its tenure claims by the same report's tenure chapter (pp. 27–44). Te Kupenga is re-keyed to Statistics New Zealand (2020b), the release year of the final data; the 2018 in its title is the survey's reference year. Housing in Aotearoa: 2020 becomes 2020a accordingly, and inline citations in all four cases are updated to match.

Nga Vaka o Kāiga Tapu. Cited for its broader conceptual content on Pacific family, intergenerational structure, and elder roles. The document title references family violence; the citable component is the underlying Pacific conceptual framework, Nga Vaka o Kāiga Tapu.

Durie (2019). Refers to Sir Mason Durie's seminar address Te āhua o te kainga (October 2019, Te Puni Kōkiri Māori Housing Network), distinct from his other published works. Provides the Māori theoretical framework (whenua, kainga, whanaungatanga, kanohi ki te kanohi) grounding Case 4.

Wang is cited as 2019, the year on the book's copyright page ('First published 2019 by Routledge'); the 2018 in circulation is Crossref's online-first date. Corrected 12 October 2026.

Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment (2025). Previously keyed to "Consumer data right in Aotearoa New Zealand," which named MBIE's web section rather than a work. Re-keyed to the captured page "Open banking regulations," which names the governing instruments: the Customer and Product Data Act 2025; the Customer and Product Data (Designations for Banking and Other Deposit Taking) Regulations 2025 (legislation.govt.nz, secondary legislation 2025/228); and the Customer and Product Data (Banking and Other Deposit Taking) Standards 2025. Journal citations should cite the instruments directly. The mechanics modelled in the cases were prospective at the time of the pilot: major-bank data-holder designation commenced 1 December 2025.

Statistics New Zealand (2018a), retired. The entry described a Census 2018 lookup across several variables rather than a publication, and could not be resolved to a retrievable release. Housing in Aotearoa: 2020 carries the claims it anchored, with page locators, and is cited alongside it in every affected anchor; the entry is removed and the anchors re-pointed.

MAIHI Ka Ora title. The document's title page carries no date range; a previously listed "2021–2051" was inferential and is removed. The strategy's first phase was approved by Cabinet in September 2021; the published document is dated the following March.

Paine, Neumann, and Yao (2023). Second-author initial corrected to D. (Neumann, D.), per the publisher's own citation record for Now We Are 12, Snapshot 10.

REVISION NOTE

Converted from Chicago author-date to APA 7, matching the case documents' retrofit to RSS Case Format v2. Entry content is unchanged apart from style; case annotations are preserved.

The list is maintained as a single living document without version numbering; substantive changes are recorded in these notes.

Two items resolved. Webber (2012) is keyed to the published title and page range, verified against the NZCER record: "Identity matters: Racial-ethnic identity and Māori students," Set: Research Information for Teachers, 2, 20–27, doi 10.18296/set.0370. The "Māori academic achievement" ending previously carried in this list is not the published title; the "role of racial-ethnic identity for Māori students in multiethnic secondary schools" variant circulating through Springer, Sage and TLRI reference lists derives from Webber's 2011 doctoral thesis and has propagated by secondary citation; the 20–25 page range given in several secondary sources is incorrect. Nga vaka o kāiga tapu is re-keyed from Pasefika Proud to Ministry of Social Development (2012), matching the document's own method section, which records that MSD commissioned the frameworks and that the Pacific Advisory Group to the Taskforce for Action on Violence within Families led the work. Pasefika Proud is the MSD campaign hosting the resource, not the issuing body. The title page names no corporate author, so the attribution is inferred from the commissioning statement and from how the document is cited externally; a named-writer form crediting Maiava Carmel Peteru is arguable, but the document is issued corporately. Case 1's inline citations and reference list are updated to match.

Further items resolved. Statistics New Zealand (2018a) retired and its anchors re-pointed to Housing in Aotearoa: 2020 with page locators. Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment (2025) re-keyed to the captured “Open banking regulations” page, with the governing instruments named in the notes. Hua (2021) takes the month its own citation line carries. The MAIHI Ka Ora title is trimmed to the document's own wording. The Paine, Neumann, and Yao second-author initial is corrected to D. Five dispositional attributes are marked constructed in the trace sheets rather than re-anchored; non-digital authority in Case 4 is re-pointed within the pilot-time corpus. The URL policy is replaced: web-published sources now carry URLs, with archived snapshots for unstable paths.

12 October 2026. Te Kupenga is re-keyed from 2018b to Statistics New Zealand (2020b), its release year, and Housing in Aotearoa: 2020 to 2020a; inline citations in the Case 1–4 trace sheets are updated to match. Wang is corrected from 2018 to 2019, the year on the book's copyright page.

Personas and scenarios in the Beyond the Score documents are not representations of specific individuals. They are composite relational models informed by demographic, behavioural, cultural, institutional, and policy research relevant to Aotearoa New Zealand.
